“ There are so many good times, from sneaking out of school, going to the mental hospital after homecoming for a fun thrill, and planning our best friends wedding together. I just cannot believe you are gone. I wish you could see the impact you had on everyone. I will miss your goofiness and that smile. I love you Alex.

“ I did not know Alex, but I send my condolences to his family. I cannot imagine the pain you are going through at this time because of a senseless act on a innocent person. My thoughts and prayers go out to the entire Family.

“ Alex was always the nicest guy, he would have given you the shirt off his back. And he lived life on his own terms, always. I never told him how much I appreciated him, and how much I appreciated that he was always there for my cousin, especially when I couldn't be. I wish I told him I thought of him as family. And maybe we didn't hang out as much as we should've, but him and my cousin always inspired me to live my life on my terms. You will be deeply missed, and never forgotten.
