“ It is a true blessing to have known a dear friend and co-worker such as "Al". Our workdays always started off with good morning cheers, a cup of coffee and a smile. Al was the type of person that was always willing to lend a helping hand and always showed me much respect.

We had to leave our family behind last year at Public Works; it was one of many battles that we had to endure. During this said time, Al married the love of his life "Phoebe" and gave his life to the Lord.

Rest my dear friend, for you hurt no more! May God continue to bless you for you have certainly been a blessing here on earth!

“ Nothing I can say will make you feel better. Just know that I am there for you in spirit and know how much Al meant to me. I know that God must have needed some "heavy stuff" moved and needed Al to take care of that for him. God bless you and the boys and stay strong. I know that Al would have wanted that.

“ Al was a kind, gentle, caring person. If he was your friend you could consider yourself blessed. He would always greet you with a smile, and a good joke or two. He was a good listener when you needed a sympathetic ear or a kind word. I will never forget you Al. You will be greatly missed.

“ My thoughts of AL are of an individual who would go out of his way to help others no matter how big the task or small. He was a kind hearted and caring individual. He brought others together through his expertise in bowling, which didn't rub off on me, but I learned it's not how well you play the game, it's friendships you make along the way that make the difference in life. We will miss you AL, but will not forget you.

“ Approximately five years ago, I had the privilege and pleasure to meet, work with and interact with one of the most pleasant human beings God has created who was none other than Al Wright. He will certainly be missed as I'm sure that many City of Albany employees agree with me that he was "special".
