“ I am very saddened at your terrible loss. I met B.C. quite a few years ago now when he took a computer class from me. He was an excellent student, intelligent, and likable. I remember him well. I believe that was his first experience with computers, but in talking with him later at Sears, I learned that he had taken the knowledge he received in the course, added to it on his own, and became very knowledgeable. I always asked for him when shopping for appliances at Sears. A nice man, B. C.
