Because of an unfortunate, early split in my family, that side of the family and I drifted apart as the years went by; especially after her move to Albany. Like the saying goes, hind-site is 20/20 but if you could change the past... you'd be in great demand! Fortunately I did see her a couple of times in fairly recent years...unfortunately one was at my dad's funeral, and had spoken a few times more recently by phone so the memories are still there although not as rich as surely we all would've liked. No more suffering; may your soul rest in peace Aunt Bonnie.

Bonnie was my sister in law until her brother and I were divorced. I always loved Bonnie and Her son Buddy. Recently we had gotten back together due to the death of her brother and my sons father. She was such a sweet person and we went to see her for a few days a year or two ago and enjoyed the trip so much. We talked on the phone and I enjoyed it so much. It will be a great loss to all of her friends and family but she was a wonderful and friend and I know I will miss her like all of her friends. Hope to hear from her son as our sons are 1st cousins.
