“ My dearest friend, it's so hard for me to let you go. Even though I felt I knew you better than anyone; we were together for 65 years, "a life time together"..... I see you more clearly now. As I walk outside I see you in the beauty of the sunrise, in the flowers, in the gentle breezes of the leaves swaying. I feel your spirit with me and I sense God's grace and peace. I am so thankful to God for letting me be with you, to hold your hand, and love on you before you left us.

I know you were "amazing, beautiful, kind, full of grace and humor", but now I know you are Brilliant, Glorious, Beyond Happy, Perfect, and with Megan. May God grant us all peace, and instill in us a spirit of kindness, compassion and understanding with all people we meet. You really understood the power of forgiveness in healing broken relationships. I encourage all who are unforgiving towards others, whether friends or family members, to contact them, and say you are sorry....even if you feel you have nothing to be sorry for. This act alone can start a healing process that can change your life and theirs. Carol practiced this, and I want to pass it on....In Christ's Love, BFF - Judy Livingston Findley

“ Wayne: Kay and I were shocked and saddened by the death of Carol. We never saw her that she wasn't happy and upbeat. She was an inspiration to us to continue to view life in a positive and cheerful manner. She still is that inspiration and her memory always will be. “ Condolences from our family to yours.
I was reminded of a memory today after my mother read of her passing.
My aunt, Delores Barfield was her next door neighbor. Little Martha Hall would come over to play with me at my aunt's house when she was visiting her Aunt Carol. I had no memory of this but its remarkable that myself and Martha Hall became friends in High School without that memory. Thank you to Martha's Aunt Carol for giving me forgotten memory of my Friend Martha!

“ I was friends with Carol and worked with her for several years. She was always a gracious soul and tenacious in her love for her family, friends and her beliefs. I did not see her often; but when I did, it was as if the years between just fell away. The world will be a sadder place for her passing, but she is rejoicing as she is reunited with her sweet Megan. Wayne, you and the family are in my thoughts and prayers.

“ Carol's smile could light up the spirits of each person she met. She certainly lived her life fully and has made a difference to others in our hurting world. The last time we were together, she was supporting our family as we grieved the death of a brother. Carol leaves a legacy of faithfulness for the rest of us to follow daily...love God and to serve others in love.. Just know we care deeply for all of her family.

“ Wayne, I just wanted to send my condolences. I always thought a lot of you and your family. You all have been a blessing to others over the years. I think of the words of a hymn "Be still my soul, thy Jesus can repay from His own fullness all He takes away. “ It was heartbreaking to learn of Carol's passing. Carol, in many ways, was a woman to be admired for her ability to love others and gave so much of herself to others. Her laughter and joking was such a joy to share with her. Carol always left you feeling better for having been in her company. She loved the Lord, her family and friends We once worked together and she always had her fingernails painted beautiful colors and offered to paint mine. I can see her face now as she painted my nails very carefully, and perfectly I might add, and then she began blowing on them to quick dry before our boss got back from lunch. I never realized...till now how special that time would be to me someday.. I have many fond memories of being with Carol but, for some reason, this special time with her stands out in my memory. I will miss her sbeautiful face and sweet spirit. I know God has her with him and Megan and all those gone before her. My condolences to her precious husband and family.

“ She was sweet and happy person; always had a smile on her face. She hired me to work at a Curves she was managing several years ago and we stayed connected through some church events. Although I did not know her long or that well her presence made an impact on me and when I heard of her home going I could not help but shed tears of sadness. God bless and comfort those who will miss her the most.
