“ Charles was one of my very favorite cousins. We consider Pat to be our 1st cousin, what a talented lady! My cousin, Morris Mullis, phrased well what Scotty and I thought "How did these two Mullis boys get such talented, pretty wives!

We looked forward to January or February for the four of them to visit us in Fl. Carole, Morris talented wife, is expert quilter. Carole and I went to fabric stores in Tampa, Pat stayed home for "rest or time out". I could not believe they brought all food for 2 day visit, planned menu, my only responsible was breakfast. Charles brought deer sausage, cooked for breakfast, deer roast Pat cooked for dinner. Charles had killed deer, think Pat was with him. Morris cooked grits, I was allowed to scramble eggs, make turkey or very lean bacon. I think they thought I was old and infirm, but did not express this.

Charles ordered me around, particularly at the table. He did not like me to get up to get anything I had forgotten, He ordered me to "SIT, DO NOT GET UP" I responded I am older, you cannot give me orders! He started calling me "General" because I had many traits like Charles. Charles always had to have weather on first thing in morning. I teased him about not being able to change weather. We had two days and nights of fun, laughs and excellent food.

I am so pleased I was able to attend the beautiful memorial service, it was what Charles would have wanted. We do not mourn his passing, he is in a place with no pain or suffering. We are looking forward to Pat coming with Morris & Carole for usual visit in January or February.

“ Charlie was a mentor and co worker with me over my span with P&G.

We had many conversations about family, church, God, and outdoor activities.

He was a friend I could always depend on to help with work projects or be available to listen and give helpful advice.

He truly loved his wife, Pat, and children and grandchildren which we talked about often..

I will miss having him as a friend and mentor.
