“ When I got married I went to Mama with the same type of problems all married people have, and I asked her what to do. She said, I will not tell you what to do because I do not want you coming back to me and saying, "Mama I would never have done that if you had not told me too." Any problems in your marriage will have to be solved by you. She was always there to listen but to never interfere. This is one of many reasons my husband and other members of her family respected and loved her so much.

Mama loved people and people loved her. She enjoyed life and liked to kick up her heels sometimes, but always in a lady like way. Although her leaving has left an emptiness inside of me, her wonderful examples will always be here to guide me until I see her again.

“ Mama how can I even begin to put my thoughts and feelings of you in writing. You were more than a mother to me you were my best friend. I miss talking to you every day. I miss your messages on my voice mail just letting me know that you were okay and that you would talk to me later. I don't know who to turn to now for help and advise. You were always my sounding and listening board. I'll miss our grocery store trips and going to church. I just wish that this was all a dream or that you had gone to visit someone and will be back soon...I feel so lost and so empty without you to talk to, I miss you so much!! Thank you for all that you taught me. You showed me how to live, love and above all how to make your family the most important thing in your life. I hope that I can walk in your footsteps and have people love me as much as you have been loved. I know that you are rejoicing in heaven with daddy and all your family but you are greatly missed here.
Please watch over all of us.
I LOVE YOU MAMA!!!!

“ My Mama was a wonderful, loving, beautiful, sweet little old lady. Her family and their happiness meant everything to her. She taught us many things, like good Southern cooking, how to fold fitted sheets, how to correctly make up a bed (hospital corners & pillow cases open outward) & to always find the good in everyone. She loved life & she lived it to the fullest right to the very end. She loved sports, especially watching the Atlanta Braves & Chipper Jones and Nascar's Jeff Gordon. I'll miss holding her hand while we talked, hearing her laugh when we shared a joke, and seeing her lovely smile. I miss you Mama. Tell Daddy I said hello and I love you both very much.

“ I have known Ms. Davis for two years. She was always very kind to me when I visited her. She was always talking about her family and how much she cared for them. She would show me all the pictures of the Grandchildren and children. She was proud of them all. She will surely be missed by all.

“ To a wonderful grandmother who had nothing but smiles and compliments everytime I saw her. I could always count on that smile to make me feel not only welcomed, but appreciated. Granny, you'll be missed always.

“ Granny..I will never forget the times at your house collecting Pecans and rasberry's and playing in the ditch across the street,trying to walk on the old rusty barrel in your backyard or playing with Grandpa's big floodlight on the side of the house. I will never forget you doing the bump with me on the dance floor at the club. Most of all Granny I will never forget you...Love your grandson Chanse Henderson

“ She's only as gone as our memories make her. So keep her close forever.

I can only try to think about the best of times when thinking about Granny, because I know if she looked down and saw me sad at thought of her that she wouldn't want it that way.
