

Miss Gene L Simpson Obituary

January 26, 1916 - January 25, 2008

Miss Gene L. Simpson, 91, of Albany, died Friday, January 25, 2008 at Palmyra Nursing Home. Her memorial service will be SATURDAY, February 2, 2008 at 11 AM at Kimbrell-Stern. The Rev. Nancy Scarbrough will officiate. Her remains were cremated. A native of Pittsburg, PA, she had lived in Albany since 2003. She graduated from California University of Pennsylvania and taught school in Pennsylvania for 35 years. Following her retirement from the school system, she moved to Birmingham, Michigan and was employed in the medical practice of her brother Dr. John Simpson. After she retired from the medical practice, she worked in a craft store in Birmingham until she was 86 years old. Throughout her life she enjoyed arts and crafts, and did beautiful needle work. She also enjoyed reading, shopping, watching her favorite television shows, and spending time with her family and friends. Although she had no children, she was devoted to, and actively interested in her nieces and nephews. Miss Simpson was preceded in death by her parents: Lawrence Simpson and Isabella Lutz Simpson; 2 sisters: Doris Wilhelm and Elizabeth Camino; a brother: Dr. John Simpson, all of Birmingham, MI. She is survived by a brother: Bud Simpson and his wife Sadie, Albany and numerous loving nieces and nephews.
