“ Aunt Ginger, I miss you so much! I can still hear your laugh and see your smile every time I think of you. I don't like thinking about it too much because all it does is bring me down.. I don't like going to family reunions anymore only because I know you won't be there. You were like my grandma. I can still remember standing by your hospital bed telling you that I loved you and you saying it right back. I regret not coming to see you right before everything happened. It hurts me so much. I am ready for the day to come so that I can see your beautiful self again. I will love to give you a hug but I will never wanna let you go.. It is still hard to believe that it will already be a year in a couple of days since you passed. I love you so much Aunt Ginger.

“ My sweet Mrs Ginger! From the days of Camera America until present, Ginger was remained a true soul. Always the bright sidee of life with a quick witted reply if needed to check up those close. She raised and loved a lot more children than her own as well as the daycare kids - including me. Ginger would always ask how "I" was doing, never voicing her own troubles. She will be missed by many. I love you Ginger - see you one day when we all join bak together. Banks Family - let me know if I can do anything to help soften your pain. Sincerely and with respectful love to all, Sam Shugart

“ Mrs. Ginger had the best laugh. I always loved to get her going by moving the ruffles on the bottom of her sofa as she perfectly placed each line neatly in place. She had the best sense of humor. You knew when you could joke with her and when not to- She will be greatly missed. Sorry for your loss during this difficult time. Hold on to the great memories!

“ Aunt Ginger, I love you so much! Only if I would've known the last time I saw you was when I was saying goodbye. I have not had enough time to think this is real yet. I still think I can go and see you but I can't & thats what hurts the most.. I love you with ALL my heart you were the best woman I ever knew . I LOVE YOU AUNT GINGER , you will always be on my mind wherever I end up . I know you ain't suffering anymore you are with god now and he will take away the pain and he is very lucky to have you cause I know I was

“ She was a loving wife, mother and grandmother. She was the true matriarch of a southern family; holding her family close and cherishing them. She was also a strong person in her own way , operating a business and taking on all that goes with ownership. She managed to bring her mothers side of her family together each year for a reunion. She embraced her grandchildren and was present for their birthdays and other life events, always putting family first. She was a treasure and will be greatly missed. Dana, Mickey, Sonya....ya'll are in my thoughts and prayers. We don't say this enough "Love you"Beth
