“ Mrs. Hagins will be truly missed. She was a true lady. She and my grandmother, Betty Churchwell were friends along with Mrs. Archie Smith and a fourth lady. I have tried to raise my daughter based on the examples taught to me by these great ladies. My heartfelt sympathy goes to the family.

“ What a special lady she was. She possessed physical beauty, but her true beauty came from within. Her expression showed confidence and a sense of contentment. A "spiffy" dresser, she always took great pride in her appearance. My fondest memories are of the lunches at Morrison's. I was honored when they asked me to join their group--and what a group they were! Grace, Frances Walker, Marion Fulmer, Hester Smith, Mrs. Howell and her mother. Different personalities and various interests, they were bound together by a very special friendship. A lively bunch, they shared stories of their experiences and always ended on a cheerful note, a gladness of time spent together. How fortunate I am to have shared that time. I'm so glad your mother passed my way. May the memories of the good times you shared as a family bring you peace during these days.

Love and prayers,

“ Mrs. Hagins was aptly named. My wife and I thought of her as a most gracious lady and always looked forward to seeing her. Now she and Eloise can meet each other in heaven. May God bless and put his loving arms around her family.

“ Sincerest sympathies in the passing of Mrs. Hagins. It was just recently that I was asking when any of our family had seen her. She was so friendly and always had a good word.
