“ Ms. Elaine moved next door to us when I was 13, her daughter Tracie eventually became my sister-in-law. Ms. Elaine was a second mom to me. She gave me my first science fiction novel; Childhoods End by Arthur C Clarke and Jumpstarted a lifelong interest in reading Scifi. When I suffered a stroke in 2000, she drove over 3 hours to Jacksonville and brought my mom sister and children to see me. She is the only non blood relates person who could fuss at me! She was soft spoken, but there was steel in it if she waa angry. I miss her

“ I was Ms. Elaine's ( as we called her) for 43 years give or take.. she was my nextdoor neighbor,and my brother's Mother-In-Law,but she was more than that. When my mother died, she was there and offered to be a surrogate mother, but I told she has always been one. When I suffered a stroke in 2000, she brought my family from Albany to Jacksonville, FL. I love her dearly. Rest in Heaven MommaLaine.
