

Ja'saun Halo-Noel Williams

April 10, 2024 - September 1, 2024

Ja'saun Halo-Noel Williams, affectionately known as Bubba, was born on April 10, 2024, in Atlanta, GA, and passed away on September 1, 2024, in Atlanta, GA. Though his time on Earth was brief, Ja'saun made a profound impact on the lives of those around him.

Ja'saun was lovingly known for his fighting spirit, demonstrating immense courage as he battled for his life, embodying the essence of a warrior. His parents, Phateema Watson Williams and Jamile Williams, along with his five siblings—Sadarian Hosten Jr., Nickhari Jenkins, Nic'Kayla Jenkins, Iza'Bella Todd, and Ja'miliah Williams—were immensely proud of his determination and strength.

Survived by his loving grandparents, Phatisha and Eric Edmonds, as well as a wide network of aunts, uncles, and cousins, Ja'saun was a beacon of hope and resilience. He often reminded those around him that "sometimes God leaves things as is," a testament to his understanding of life's challenges. As a Christian, Ja'saun's spirit shone brightly, inspiring others to fight against the odds. His defining characteristic, a playful side-eye, brought smiles to those who knew him, reflecting his gentle nature. Though Ja'saun was meant to be an angel, his legacy will forever remain in the hearts of his family and friends, reminding them of the strength and love he shared during his short time with them.

The family will receive friends from 12 PM until 1 PM, Saturday, September 7, 2024, at Ebenezer Missionary Baptist Church in Leary. His funeral will be held at 1 PM at Ebenezer Missionary Baptist Church with interment to follow in the church cemetery.

Those desiring may make memorial contributions to the Thanatophoric Dysplasia Foundation or to Children's Healthcare of Atlanta-Scottish Rite.

“ He was a beautiful boy! I am so sorry for your loss! I know this is a very painful time, but, trust in God to pull you through this unthinkable loss. I am so glad you had a bit of time with him. I lost my baby at 8 months into my pregnancy 36 years ago. I miss him everyday, but, I know the Lord has him, and I will see him again, as will you. May God comfort you and your family.
