

Joan G. Bowles Obituary

July 14, 1943 - February 21, 2004

A native of Albany, Miss Bowles also was a resident of Cleveland TN and Hackettstown, NJ, later returning here upon retirement. She was a lifetime member of Avalon United Methodist Church, a member of United Methodist Women, and a member of the Woodmen of the World. She retired after 37 years of employment with M&M Mars, here, Cleveland TN, and Hackettstown N.J where she traveled with the M&M Mars Company world wide. "Aunt Joan" loved her family dearly, as a loving sister, aunt, and a was a caregiver to a great number of friends. She was preceded in death by her parents Willis and Evers Gray Bowles and a brother Hughie Bowles.

“ So saddened to hear of her passing. We spent many hours together when she was employed with H & R Block. Such a sweet, kind person. I think of her often. I had no idea she was ill.

“ I worked with Joan in National Office Commercial at M&M/Mars. I used to tell her us Yankees couldn't understand her because she talked like she had cotton balls in her mouth! She would always laugh and say we didn't know good Southern charm when we saw it!

She was a warm and witty person to work with and was a welcome addition on my side of the negotiating table any day of the week!

Joan, you are missed!!

“ Please accept my deepest sympathies in the loss of my former coworker, Joan Bowles. I received the sad news last evening. Joan and I were in the same position at Mars; I was at the Pennsylvania location while she was at Hackettstown and Albany. We coordinated closely on many projects and as a result became good friends. Joan was always a comforting voice on the telephone when I had a problem at work and we confided in each other about such things. She was a very classy lady and I will miss her. My sincere condolences to her family and friends.

“ I only knew Joan through Amy Bowles but I knew that she was a well loved person who loved life and loved her family. Joan is where she would want to be, sitting with Lord looking down on her loved one. May God Bless her family and friends and my prayers are still with you.
