“ You took my hand, you showed me how
You promised me you'd be around
Uh huh that's right
I took your words and I believed
In everything you said to me
Yah huh that's right
If someone said three years from now
You'd be long gone
I'd stand up and punch them out
?Cause they're all wrong I know better
?Cause you said forever
And ever?who knew?
Remember when we were such fools
And so convinced and just too cool
Oh no, no, no
I wish I could touch you again
I wish I could, still call you a friend I'd give anything
When someone said count your blessing now
?Fore they're long gone
I guess I just didn't know how
I was all wrong
But they knew better
Still you said forever
And ever?who knew?
Ill keep you locked in my head
Until we meet again
Until we, until we meet again
And I wont forget you my friend
What happened?
If someone said three years from now
You'd be long gone
I'd stand up and punch them out
?Cause they're all wrong
That last kiss, I'll cherish
Until we meet again
And time makes it harder

*I wish I could remember
But I keep your memory
You visit me in my sleep
My darling
Who knew?
My darling
Who knew?
My darling, I miss you, my darling
Who knew?*

*i miss you lots joey.
hope your doing good my love.
take care.
i love you.*

“joey, joey, joey. just to hear that name brings back so many memories. joey was a one of a kind boy. he loved to listen to music and look at the stars. which i have memories of. me and him shared alot in common. afterall we hugn out on the weekends with matt and syd. he was kind hearted and always thought about others before himself. he was very manerly. i wish i could change what happend. but i cant. i can ponly move on into another day without him but with memories of him. i miss you joey. you were my one and only. i miss our conversations till' 2 or 3 in the morning. i miss you calling me everyday at 6 to wake me up for school. but most of all i miss you and your smile. you had the most beautiful smile. you were so proud of it too. of not having to wear braces anymore. everyday i look at the stars. i will always remember the night we climbed on top of lake park and laid there looking at the stars. oh what a night. joey you are deeply missed and loved by many. take care kiddo. for i am waiting for the day to walk through heavens gates to see you smiling face and have the embrace of your arms wrapped around me tightly. i love you joey. always and forever.

love, peace, chicken grease!

“ Hello, I know u don't know me, but i talked to Joey last year a bit. I just wanted to tell you of what I remember of him. He and I were in the same Science class and we sat right next to each other. He would tell me about his home life and his family. Sometimes he would joke on Jake during class and would laugh at him even if there was no reason. He liked to joke around and would crack up if you fell for it. He did it to me a bit, but it was funny. There was also something else he did during class...I thought it was funny. If the teacher made him mad, he would shoot her a bird when she sat down at her desk and was working on her computer. He was fun to be around. I feel bad that he did what he did... He told me about how he was going to do that one day, but I thought he was kidding. Anyways, I'm sorry I delayed writing. I was scared what others might think if i wrote something. I hope you doing better and I, as well as Sherwood, is praying for you.

“ Judy, it has been a long time since high school but I still think of you. This is a poem that has brought me comfort from time to time. And if I go, while you're still here, Know that I live on, vibrating to a different measure-behind a thin veil you cannot see through. You will not see me, so you must have faith. I wait the time when we can soar together again, both aware of each other. Until then, live your life to its fullest. And when you need me, just whisper my name in your heart, I will be there.

“ Dear Judy,

I do not know you, but am member of FUMC, and I am sure we have crossed paths. You have been in my thoughts & prayers and I know with God's hearing hand and strength that one day you will heal from this tragedy. It is so hard these days to raise teenagers, and I can only imagine what you are enduring. My son, Justin Stevens, sang at Joey's service, and so proud that he was able to do so. Just remember that God will never leave you, and SO many people are praying for you and your family. God Bless You.

“ With deepest sympathy and a heavy heart to the family. How troubled our teenagers are these days in times where the world seems to move by so quickly leaving some of us lost. Let each of us hug and tell our children we love them every day as we never know it may be the last. My son was friends with Joey at one time. We are all saddened by his loss. God bless him.

Bless you and may God walk with you every step you take in your healing.
