“ My sincere condolences to Clint's family. I have known Clint since the early 70s when he and I used to terrorize the squirrel population between his house and mine. We spent many afternoons with our B.B. guns running through all the neighbors yards trying to rid the world of squirrels. Over the years, as life usually does, we lost contact, only to see each other by happenstance or Facebook. Another gone too soon. Keep his memories alive and he will remain in your heart.
