“Rick, Rick , Rick " How are you today? " is what I would say each day am or pm as Rick rolled through the door at Fyzical Therapy and Balance Center. He would always greet us with smile, joke, or just a word of encouragement. He would say Shanika " Its going to be alright and I would say " It sure is Rick no matter what it looks like. We would laugh together pray for one another, tell funny funny jokes or even run me over with his electric scooter if Im in the way. LOL. He laughed so hard years ago after I told him my nickname" Poon" until he almost fell out his chair . Then the following week He gave me a blue wooden cross ion a stand with my nickname going down the middle. That really really touched my heart. Rick will be dearly dearly missed at Fyzical Therapy and Balance Center from employees as well as others he would meet each day. My heart and prayers go up for friends and family. May God continue to spread his love and wrap his warmth spirit around everyone during this time.
