

Mr. Julian Dell Bush

January 24, 1939 - April 30, 2018

Julian Dell Bush, aged 79, died Monday, April 30, 2018 of complications due to cancer. A memorial service will be held for Mr. Bush on Thursday, May 3, 2018 at 12 PM at First Baptist Church of Albany. The family will receive friends for visitation from 11 to 12 prior to the service.

Mr. Bush was a long-time resident of Albany, graduating from Albany High School in 1957. He went to the University of Alabama and earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in business and finance.

Upon returning to Albany in 1962, Mr. Bush became the owner and president of AAA Concrete Products Corporation, where he worked for the last 55 years. Mr. Bush was also a prominent real estate developer in Dougherty and Lee Counties, managing the construction, sale, and rental of many homes for Albany citizens. Mr. Bush was one of the seven partners who purchased Oakland Planation in Lee County in 2003, and he was instrumental in the ongoing development of the property as a mixed-use residential and commercial project. Mr. Bush was highly respected in the septic tank design and installation business and was widely regarded as the most knowledgeable man in Southwest Georgia in the septic tank business.

Mr. Bush is remembered for his years of civic duty and service to the Albany community over the last 50 years. He served on the Board of Directors for Security Bank for almost 20 years, and he was a member of the boards of the YMC and the Riverquarium.

Mr. Bush was a leader in the First Baptist Church of Albany, where he was a member for over 50 years and deacon of Christian service off and on for 40 years. Mr. Bush was an avid fisherman and knew his way around all the local creeks, and his expertise in gardening was well-known. On May 12 Mr. Bush would have celebrated 55 years of marriage. Mr. Bush will be remembered for his kindness, his work ethic, his integrity, his sense of humor, and his love for his family and his Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Mr. Bush is survived by his mother, Robbie Bush Adams, of Headland, Alabama, by his spouse, Jean Phillips Bush, of Albany, by his son, Joel Dudley Bush, II, of Atlanta, and by his daughter Jennifer Bush Salter (Chris Salter) of Marietta. “ I worked for AAA Concrete for 14 years. Mr. Bush was without a doubt the best boss that I have ever had the privilege of working for. He treated me like one of his own. I was vice president of operations when I left AAA. That was the saddest day of my life. He had nothing to do with me leaving. He taught me a lot about business. Our work ethics we're a lot a like. Mr. Bush you will be missed and you will be forever in my heart and mind.

“ I will never forget Dell. He is the one that recognized my home building ability in about 1998 and invited me to participate in the N. Pebble Ridge community. It was very successful and from there it was Quail Valley, Quail Chase and still going in Oakland. Dell was always available for advise and help and my family enjoyed his St George Island beach house many times. A few years back he shared how his faith had been strengthened greatly through some of the difficult times in real estate and I was encouraged by that. I believe Dell is at home with the Lord today.

“ In my three decades at The Albany Herald, I don't think I met a more honorable and respected business person than Dell. In addition, he was a pillar of strength and integrity at our church, First Baptist Church of Albany. Our sincerest thoughts and prayers go out to Jean and family. Danny and Pam Carter

I was always taught that integrity could not be bought or sold, but must be earned. Dale was the epitome of integrity and respect and I enjoyed many interesting conversations between Dale and my dad on construction sites in the 60,s 70s and 80,s and later as a contractor myself . He was always there to provide advice on any subject . Just 4 weeks ago I called him with a question and he answered immediately as he always did .

We will miss you Dell
