

Kay H. Duvernet Obituary

July 3, 1947 - August 30, 2009

Kay, educated at Vanderbilt University and Georgia State University, was an award-winning photographer and published poet. She lived for many years in New Orleans, where her interest in photography began and where many of her photographs were taken. Her works have appeared in museums, galleries, and art centers throughout the Southeast and are now in the permanent collection of the Morris Museum in Augusta, GA. At the time of her death, her book of poems and photographs, Rain from Nowhere, was in the final stages of publication. Kay is survived by her sisters, Diane Miller and her husband, Tim, of Athens, GA; Susan Logan and her husband, Stuart, of Albany; Laura Harrell and her husband, Bill, of Albany; Dia DuVernet and her husband, Pierce Tyler, of Portsmouth, VA; her nieces and nephews, Lucky, Jamaica and Dixie Miller of Athens, Kallie and Jenny Phillips of Albany, Bailey Logan of Albany, and James DuVernet Tyler of Portsmouth; her aunts and uncle, Polly DuVernet Jones, of Albany, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richmond Crawford, Jr., of Lexington, GA; many cousins, friends, and Linda Hudson and Jewell Jackson, who both gave Kay such loving care.

“ *I have so many wonderful memories of being in the DuVernet home and your wonderful beach house! I'm so very sorry for your loss.
Please know that although we have not seen each other for such a long time, your family still holds a special place in my heart.*

I will be thinking of you and keeping you in my prayers.

Love,

Shelley
