“ Kayanne, I know this may be later than everyone else, but know it still means as much. I became part of this family 11 years ago, and you were one of the most welcoming people ever. You were spunky, quirky, protective of your family, and genuinely the most kind-hearted person I grew to know and love.

Between us having the same name, loving the same things, and your amazing soul, I grew to love your company. Gabby absolutely adores you and loves being your niece (we loved calling you her aunt)! You were her absolute favorite.

I'll miss our family dinners, the faces you'd make when Joe would do or say certain things, our talks of music, TV shows, and movies. I just wish there could have been more times like that.

Your Sims house will still be there, our last memory together. I'll cherish it forever because you were so happy and full of smiles building it, determined to get every detail just right. We joked about how we were very much alike when it came to that. If only you felt the need to decorate just a little longer so we could have had a little more time with you.

We love and miss you so much, Kay. You were taken way too soon, but forever will be in our hearts, minds, souls, and memories.

Love you Kay

“ No matter how hard I was on my kids I have and always will love them. My daughter came into my life 30 years ago and was taken from us too soon. She was the best friend of her brother and grew to be a rock for her mother and I when we needed one the most. Hate was never in her heart and never judged a person by their outward appearance or beliefs. I am so proud to be called daddy but I am not the only one she called that. Yes she has 2 and we love her more than anyone can imagine. When I wasn't able to be there for her he was and if he wasn't I was. The thing that makes the 2 of us the same is the love we have for her and her leaving us leaves an unfillable hole in our hearts and respected families. Not a day will go by that he and I won't think of the beautiful young woman that changed our lives forever. Even though I do not show it it hurts knowing she is gone but will never be forgotten. Nothing will ever be the same without our sweet little girl. Thank you for all you've done in our lives and if it is true maybe just maybe we will see you again one day.
