“ Mr. Saxon lived with his parents across the street from us in Arlington, Ga. My sisters and I would ride our bikes on the sidewalk and stop and chat! This would have been late 50's and early 60's. Seems like I remember him with a tri-pod and that he took pictures as the May Day participants gathered in my yard. Sweet man. God bless his friends and loved ones as he will surely be missed.

“ Mr. Lloyd was a fine man in many ways. I enjoyed seeing him each and every time I voted. We would always catch up in those few minutes. I was honored to be introduced to the Saxon's as a young child by my mother (Nancy) and she sure adored them. Please consider this a warm smile and gentle hug to all that loved Mr. Lloyd. The Good Lord has another awesome soldier by his side. Respectfully, Sam Shugart

“ Lloyd was such a good man, We were a visitation team him and I visiting folks who came to our church for the first time. He always made them smile, and many of them came back and joined our church, thanks to Lloyd. I will never forget this Godly man. I will miss him so much, but I do know that he is up in heaven smiling down on us.
