“ Wanting all of you to know how sorry I am for your loss. Even though I never met your mother, Joyce, I feel like I knew her through all our conversations about her. I know she was a beautiful, loving lady and that you would have done anything for her. She loved your visits and all your pampering. A mother is the hardest person to let go of - at least it was for me. But, just like me, you will have so many wonderful memories of your time with her. She's no longer suffering and she is in heaven now watching over you. Wish I could be there with you, but hope to see you soon when you return to Texas. Love and prayers for all. Sara
