

Lynda D. McMahon Obituary

November 10, 1941 - April 5, 2004

A native of Albany, GA, Mrs. McMahon was of the Methodist faith. She graduated high school in Guam and attended college at Sacramento State in California and then began a career as a flight attendant for United Airlines, and later worked in real estate, was a general contractor in Florida and worked in Real Estate Management. She loved horses, boats, deep sea diving, flying, and had a special love for birds. Even during her sickness, she felt that the birds were to be fed before her self.

“ Lynda was a very sweet caring person. We hadn't been in contact for many years and it was sad to read her obituary. REST IN PEACE !!!

“ Thanks for helping me contact Lynda's family. I found out on April 20, 2004. I had been looking for this dear and wonderful person for many years. She had several tragic events happen to her in life, ALS being the final one. Ironically, there is a high incidence of ALS on the Island of Guam where we met. The last time I saw Lynda was when my military prop plane was taking off from the Naval Air Station on Guam in 1960. This young beautiful girl named Lynda Duke was waving and crying while we took off for a very bumpy ride back to the USA. I have and will miss her in life and my thoughts will be of her always.

“ I went to high school on Guam with Lynda and was very, very sad to find this information. I had been looking for old friends on the web. I would like to get in touch with her mother Ruby, sister Lee or Kenneth Higgins, Jr.

“ I do not know Mrs. McMahon. But I, too, lost my mother to ALS in 1998. This disease robbed my mother of so much in life. But thorough it all, she kept her head up. I am her only child, and it was very hard for me to accept. I can only say that she is in a better place. My mother suffered for 1 and a half years. Just know you are not alone. I will keep you in my prayers.

“ Although I did not know Ms. McMahon, my father, Mark Rosenfeld, died on November 7, 2003 or ALS. I know exactly what your family is going through. This disease is a terrible disease and I know it was hard on you all watching her go through this. My heart-felt sympathy goes out to all of the family. I had tears in my eyes when I read about the donations going to the ALS Association.
