“ I came to the MCDR law firm a few months after Peggy did and we became good friends. We were both extreme coffee lovers, and one of my fondest memories is walking downstairs to the kitchen together to refill our coffee cups, always chatting for a few minutes before returning to our desks. For many years after her retirement, Peggy met with a couple of other retirees and me approximately every other month for lunch on a Saturday so we could keep up with each other. I miss her very much. - Karen Cox
