“ Dear Nana,

It is now December 7th and your death anniversary is coming. I am now sixteen and I am finding this harder to deal with as I get older. I could always count on you to put a smile on my face. We would always sit and watch Jeopardy and drink pepsi. I love you so much words can't explain. Your now soaring on cardinal's wings! I love you and wish you were here!

Love Always, Jordan

“ To Nana,
Hey Nana it's Jordan. I have to write a narrative essay for my honors literature class and I want to write a paper about you and how much you meant to me and how much you still do. I love and miss you so much! There is so much your missing and that is the reason I am sad not because of your death. This is because I know your not in pain and your in a better place. I love you and every time i see a red bird i think of you and how much I know you loved me, and this is what keeps me going.
Love Always,
Jordan

“ Hi Nonie,
In 9 days you will have been in heaven for 4 years. I still miss you sometimes, but mostly now I just thank Jesus for all the memories you and I made while you were here. Jordan and Nathan are so grown up! Can you believe Jordan will be driving next year? I miss you so much during Christmas time because you always made them so special while you were on earth. I am supposed to be studying for my final exams right now, but I just had to talk to you for a second. I know that you saw how excited I was when I found out I got accepted to Clemson, but I would still have liked to hear you say "Go Tigers" just once. I guess I'll end here, but I want you to know that I still think about you and love you always.

Love,
Prissy

“ I only know of your mother and grandmother through the legacy of those she has left behind, most notably daughter Jeannie Stoker and granddaughter Amanda Prisant. Their hearts & compassion are as big as all outdoors, and I can only think that they learned these lessons from a very fine lady. She will be missed on earth but is in a better, more placid environ with her G-d. My thoughts and prayers are with the family for comfort in their hours of grieving.

“ I knew Mrs. Rynder as a neighbor when she resided at Point North Apartments. I enjoyed listening to her talk. She was one very tough woman. She said everything she meant and meant everything that she said. I work as a mailman, and she would always tease me about bringing her a love letter. She was just one fine person to have known. To the Rynder family, be strong and rejoice in knowing that your mother had lived a great productive life. My god bless you all.
