“ Craig & Family,
I know how much Papa influenced you all, especially you, Craig; and I feel fortunate to have met him. Life carries on through generations; I hope you realize that many of those qualities you admire most about Papa are the same qualities I admire in you. Every one of us carries a burden, I'm sure your Papa had his share, but he still managed to touch hearts and gain the admiration of so many during his life's journey.
Now you have the burden of touching those in your life in the same wonderful way he influenced you. Feel comforted knowing that he is still with you, in your heart throughout rest of your journey. You and your family are in my prayers.

“ I didn't know 'Papa' well, only met him a few times thru my friend and co-worker Craig, but I saw the love between them and his great sense of humor and his ability to endear himself to people through his wonderful personality. The world needs more like him. I'm sure his many siblings will eagerly embrace him again.

“ God sends an Angel into every child's life. I believe He gives the parent the choice to be that angel or the reason he must send one. I was blessed that Robert McDonald was not only my Papa but that angel. Most people saw the monetary and material things he gave, but he gave me so much more. He always said "Jesus is the truth and the light and the truth will set you free". He planted that seed in me as a child, watered it throughout my life and believed God for the harvest. He led by example thru giving freely and unconditional love not harsh words or demeaning slaps. In his presence, you could laugh, play and trust without fear. Growing up, he provided me with everything one could hope for, including an education at Riverview. He supported me in all my years of sports and bodybuilding. But what stands out in my heart above the support is everywhere he went, he had to tell stories of what Chrissie did growing up. He was a man of great character and integrity - a true gentleman. He made me want to be a better person, to live life more abundantly as God intended. He was always there to rescue me regardless of the cost. He refused to let a crushed spirit completely die. Because of his words of wisdom and loving guidance, I got set free this past year. He gave me life. Papa, I feel your spirit with me. I know you are fishing and telling jokes in heaven today and that gives me peace. I love you Papa.

“ Craig and family,
You have our sympathy, and our thoughts and prayers are with you all. While we did not know Papa well, we certainly know how much he was loved and admired by his wonderful grandson. May he rest in peace, and may God's gentle arms comfort those who loved him.

“ Crystal, I am so sorry for your loss. Though I only knew him briefly when he stayed with you, I missed him when he went back to Georgia. He was the kindest most gentle soul you could meet. Always full of jokes and stories about you that showed his love.
