“ We shared phone calls and occasional visits with Cousin Ronnie. Enjoyed and glad we were related. I will miss that. But glad he is no longer in pain. We said to each other many times that we always need to be ready to go meet our Lord. And always ended calls or visits with "I love you." You can't say that too much to those you love because you never know when it will be the last time you can share it with each other.
