“ Ok so I chose the baseball for the braves doing a great job the last few games, and for a unbelievable home opener!!! So I have gotten hooked on this new show called "Long Island Medium" about this awesome long island mom who is so cute and funny and she is a medium and she is the best and most accurate I have ever seen. I would give just about anything to get a reading from her!! I want so badly to be able to communicate with you. I need you to be around me and make yourself obvious thru the signs you can put out there..come on Finley, I know you can do it and you could even haunt us, but lets not go that far, a few flicking of the lights will do !!! I miss you still terribly, and wish so bad you were here to talk to , I would love introducing you to Jayde, Chad and I's granddaughter, how wild is that??? I hope your family is doing well.. miss you as always

“ Hey there Finley, So sorry for how long its been since I came and wrote you a note, but I am back..SO SO much has happened and I wish so badly I could call you up and tell you everything, but this is the next best thing. So back in April, I walked into my tennis shop to get my racquet restrung and walked out with a date for that night, to go have margaritas. The date went awesome and we have not been apart since that night. It was pretty much love at first sight. We had such a great time together and had so much in common , two days later I introduced him to Lindsey and she adored him and he adored her and we felt immediately like a family. And we have been a family ever since. And eight days before I met him Norma passed away :(that was terribly upsetting!! Lindsey and I had just gone to Albany the night before our spring break trip bc they said she was not going to make it thru the night. So we jumped in the car and rushed to her side, Lindsey spent a total of five hours by her bedside. NOT crying (because her dad told her crying was not allowed up there (how the hell can you make a rule in ICU of no crying?) anyway she was so strong for her MEME and made us all so proud of her. Then the next morning we left for Destin. THat next day we got the call from Chad that she had passed away in the middle of the night. So on Wednesday we got up at 5 am and rushed to Albany for the funeral. Everyone was on their best behavior and it was a beautiful day. It was so weird for everyone to go out to the house and neither Norma OR Charles not being there, that was a sad sad moment for me, to know it was probably the last time I would ever have a reason to go to that house :(

Ok enough about that, here is the biggest news...drum roll please.....I AM A GRANDMOTHER!!!!!!!!!! Jessica gave birth to a perfect little angel on Feb 22, 2012 and I am telling you right now, I am blown away by the love that is filling my heart for this little girl. Lindsey is so excited you would think she had just had a baby. And they are all going to be living with us for a while which just tickles me pink!!!! I love you Sidney Finley. I was laughing with David the other night as we are watching My Cousin Vinny, and our favorite part came on about the dear, and I told him the story about when you were in one of your hiding out phases and you were ignoring your li philie and i kept leaving you long messages begging you to call me back, and mention this scene in the movie on one of my messages, next time I called your outgoing message was the audio of that scene from the movie I thought I was going to hurt something laughing so damn hard... OMG that was a funny moment!!! I miss your humor, and I miss your friendship!!! I love you and will talk to you soon!!!!

“ Wow it has been a while since I came to shout out at ya. Christmas came and went and as always I toasted to you and missed you and enjoyed our Christmas memories of you! It was a terrible Christmas! Jessica got snowed in in West Virginia with her boyfriend. And guess when she got back? Last Thursday night!!! 5 months later!!! So on the table sat her Christmas presents, her Valentines card and candy, her Easter basket!! It was ridiculous how long it took to get her home!

I cant believe that in a couple weeks it will have been five years since you passed away. I cant believe I even have to say those words, passed away, it still doesnt seem real to me!! I wonder if it ever will. I know it will never feel right but I guess I expected to come to terms with it. I just miss you sweet funny man, so much!! YOu are so very loved and adored, and I just hope you truely knew that and felt it. I talked about you to Lindsey a few minutes ago in the car, and sang a little ditty we used to sing to each other, that was code for something else and was a great inside joke but makes others scratch their heads LOL LOL I love talking about you to others and making people laugh telling Sid stories...just love it!! I miss you Finley!!!

“ Wow in 7 days it will have been four years, Yesterday I creied like it happened yesterday. Some days I am fine, I can think about you and just smile and have fun in my own head with the memories, then times like yesterday I feel I will die myself from the pain, and the empty place in my life where only you will fill. But I have lots of wonderful friends but noone is SIDNEY Finley!! You were so funny, so sweet, so crazy and so irreplaceable...I pray for you, your family and Big Fatty often, I love you my funny friend!

“ Hey buddy, boy have I slacked on writing ...I was just telling your brother about how I use this as a blog for you, not sure if it is something I should do, maybe I need to create a facebook page in your honor and do it there from now on, I dont know. I miss you so much. As you well know things sure have changed in our life, I know your sad about us not sticking with the marriage, but I hope you understand and are not too upset with me. You have inspired me so many times when I have found your post cards years later, and they are always exactly what I need to hear now...so cool. I love you sweet man, your so missed, and wow so loved!!! Please come to me in a dream!!!!!!!!!!!!

“ I was down today, but I have been getting stronger and God has had to put about 6 new friends in my life to make me feel just part of that hole you left in my heart. So that has been nice, no one can fill that spot completely but they help and I know your with us. Chad is missing you really bad, he feels bad, he feels regret, he is really sad knowing there will never ever ever be another Sid for him in this world, you held all of his past, he cant ever have that kind of history with another, sure he could tell it, but you lived it with him. I cant even give that to him, you were on up there equal and above me in his heart..please make me laugh again...I have your video in the vcr playing in thge other room and as I said that, I hear..in your voice "Hello Chad and Elizabeth.." That was a cool...ok going to watch it and feel like we hung out... I LOVE YOU Finley

“ I was at dinner tonight with a friend I have known since high school and Chad, and of course Sid stories came up. We laughed and laughed. And of course I got to missing you. Then I called Margie to tell her I was sorry I was not coming to Rosemary's christening. And she told me that Tony Hodges had died today. I could not believe it. And I relived it all over again. I was telling Chad that Heaven got a little wilder with you two hanging again. Uggghhhh we miss you so much....

“ Well, I seemed to survive Christmas. I meant to go by and see Joy and Carrol or at least call but I was only in town for two days. On my way out of town I was listening to one of my favorite songs by Counting Crows called "I Wish I was a girl" and one of my favorite lines in there says " Elizabeth you know, I'm doing alright, these days" and it made me cry thinking that you would want me to know your ok and that I should not grieve for you. Then I realized I had not gone by your grave while I was in town and that made me sad. I wanted to leave you a flower for Christmas, but I forgot and I was mad at myself.

Love you-

“ I have been thinking of you more than normal these past couple weeks, Christmas always reminds me of you and you were one of the reasons I could tolerate this season. You coming to shop, helping me wrap presents, drink egg nog..all of it made my Christmas better. Today I woke up and was devastated I could not call you. I miss you so badly my friend. I would give anything in the world for one more talk, one more laugh, one more smile. You brightened my life and I will miss you every day I am on this earth without you! I cant stop crying today, and I know I should be grateful you are no longer in pain, but I am in a selfish state and want you to be here for me. I hope some how you know how much you are loved and missed. Merry Christmas my friend...

“ Well, today was one of those...I need to call Sid..." days. I need a good ol laugh to where I am crying, he is crying, and we are laughing so hard we are silent. Those were the BEST! And he could do it to me every time. No matter how much I would say, I am really not in the mood to talk, I am in a foul mood!!! He didnt care...he wouldnt continue with his silly story of how funny he found something in his day, and I would roll my eyes, and say Sid..get to the point. And in 2.5 mintes he had me laughing and totally seeing why he thought it was so funny. He was the best story teller...I was sharing Sid stories with someone the other day, and just went through the rest of the day feeling I had connected with him that day. I know he is around, and some days like today, I just cant find him anywhere....or I am missing his signs.

I come here every once in a while, and I feel like I have done something like visited his grave. I dont live in Albany so going to the cemetary is not a possibility on days I would go, so this is my online visits. I am the only one I think that comes here....I just thought of Sid telling me I could write anything and nobody would know HAHAHHAHHA he would be tempted to write something totally innappropriate to see if he could get a rise out of anyone enough to write back. LOL LOL If anyone is reading these let me know and I will try to be more creative, and curb my thoughts to your liking. Ok now I am talking to myself.

Love you Finley!!!!

“ Thinking of your family yesterday. I celebrated Sid's birthday with Chad. Very strange that yesterday was his second birthday since he passed away and yet we have just gotten through the first anniversary of his passing. The last three days were so hard for me, I needed to talk to him so badly I just wanted to scream like an idiot with frustration. I even miss him ignoring my calls and me leaving him crazy messages threatening him...with whatever I could think of, I used to get so tickled at my creativity with this ritual. Sid told me one time that Joy was so tired of hearing my messages (when he would come home to rest, she would go check on things at his house)she would say "Sid please call that girl back so she will stop with the crazy messages" There will never be another friend even remotely like my Finley. He just was truly one of a kind. I wish everyone a happy and safe 4th of July.

“ I cant believe it has been a year. This time last year was the last few minutes that everything was ok in my world. When we lost Sid a part of me went with him. I have had Joy Carrol, Scott and the boys on my mind and heart for the last couple of weeks more than normal. Heaven got a lot brighter, had more laughter when our Sidney arrived. I miss him with all of my heart and will celebrate his life instead of focusing on his death.

God Bless you Sidney...I love you!

“ As everyone knows Sid was the Best--We had our problems but he knew that I was his REAL friend and I would do anything to have him sit next to me right now and make me mad(it would not take much)--I love my Sid-de-poo(my nickname for him)--I remember when he went to the Phoebe ER and I met Joy there she said why don't you marry this girl and I said Hell no I would kill him--I don't think Joy really knew that I would have married him that second--He will always be very special and Big Fatty will take on his role--I Love You- Joy, Carroll, Scott,and (BigFatty most of all)
Sid will always be #1 in my HEART--

“ Happy Birthday Sidney Finley!!! I miss you so much I cant stand it.

Joy, Carrol and Scott you are in my thoughts and prayers, and I wanted to let you know I was thinking of you , especially today. The other night I was in a bad mood and gathered my cigs my tea, and the phone to go call Sid to cheer me up, and it was when I picked the phone up I realized this was not possible and I broke down in tears. It will take a long time to stop doing this I am sure. It is so natural for me to think of Sid when I am down because he was the person I called knowing he would have me laughing within minutes and my bad mood would go away. I had no idea how much I depended on him and how much I loved him until now. I have learned many lessons since the 9th of June...forgiveness is the best thing you can do for yourself and the people in your life. And you need to tell the people in your life what they mean to you. Appreciate the friends you have and spend that time with them while you can, being too busy is not an option, and is very arrogant. You should never be too busy to spend time with the people you love. Life is so precious! I am a better person because Sid was my best friend. I will treasure the memories and the time we did have together. I am so grateful I have my precious husband Chad because he and Sid are so alike and all my memories I have with Sid were usually the three of us together so we can comfort each other, and we can remember together and laugh together about the many Sid stories. I hope you know how much he meant to us and how much he is missed. We are here if you need anything!

Love, Elizabeth

“ I am sitting at work an absolute wreck tears rolling, eyes swollen shut then, my friend sent me this poem to help, It has not helped yet because I am stillbeing selfish, I want him here for me, to make ME feel better...to make me laugh, or make me mad...anything but this pain. I will get stronger and know my best friend is happy now, and in a wonderful place and in no more pain and has no restrictions. I know everyday will get better but some days I just dont know. I love you Sidney...a song that has helped me and stays on reply in my car is I 'm Moving On by the Rascal Flats...it is perfect and brings me much comfort. Here is the poem....

I'm Free

*Don't grieve for me, for now I'm Free;
I'm following the path God laid for me.
I took his hand when I heard him call;
I turned my back and left it all.*

*I could not stay another day
To laugh, to love, to work, or play.
Tasks left undone must stay that way;
I found that peace at the close of day.*

*If my parting has left a void,
Then fill it with the remembered joy.
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss;
Ah, yes: these things I too, will miss.*

*Be not burdened with times of sorrow;
I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow.
My life's been full. I savored much.
Good friends, good times, a loved one's touch*

*Perhaps my time seemed all too brief;
Don't lengthen it now with undue grief.
Lift up your heart and share with me;*

God wanted me now; He set me free.

“ I'm so sorry to hear the news about Sid. He kept everyone in the office in stitches with his humor. You could always depend on Sid to see the funny side to any situation. Having a son about the same age as Sid, I wish there was something I could say to make your pain easier but know that Sid will always be remembered in the fondest of ways by all who knew him not just for his humor but for the kind and gentle soul he was.
