“ Philip, Brad, and Alison- We are sorry to hear of Sondra's passing. I know she'll be missed by all who she came in contact with. Even though she and I were separated by age and distance all our lives, I still remember when she was a teenager and taught me how to wash her car. Maybe she was taking advantage of her younger cousin, but I still wash cars the same way today. May God give each of you comfort and peace in during this time and remember that we are praying for you.
