

W. G. Harrell Obituary

March 11, 1927 - August 18, 2005

Mrs. J. H. Harrell, Jr., known as "Jake" by her family and friends, died Thursday, August 18, 2005 at Sumter Regional Hospital in Americus. Jake's funeral service will be SATURDAY 11 AM at Kimbrell-Stern with interment to follow at Crown Hill Cemetery. The Revs. Betty Lou Miller and Kent Miller will officiate. She was born in Davisboro, GA in Washington County, the daughter of Harper and Ann Roberson Garrett. Jake married John H. "Jack" Harrell, Jr., a Central of Georgia Railroad Agent on February 1, 1948. She moved with her husband to Americus in 1962, then to Albany in 1970 as the Central of Georgia became the Southern Railroad. Jake was a member of Porterfield Memorial United Methodist Church, the Southern Railroad Ladies Club, and the Eastern Star. She had moved to Milledgeville from 1973-1994, then back to Albany. Her passion was cooking, her life was her husband and family, and her pride was her grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband, her parents, and her siblings: James, Gladys, Raleigh, Ray, Bill, and Douglas Garrett. Survivors include her daughter: Cynthia Lawrence and her husband Bill, Lee County, her son: Gary Harrell and his wife Benjie, Lee County; her grandchildren: Bill Lawrence, Valdosta, Brent Harrell, Atlanta, Marie Harrell, Savannah, Adam Lawrence, Athens; her brother: W. G. "Dock" Garrett, Milledgeville; close family friends: Vicki and Perry Carter, Lee County. Jake's family will receive friends at Kimbrell-Stern Saturday morning from 10 AM until the funeral hour. Those desiring may send memorials to Magnolia Manor, Lee St., Americus, GA 31709, or to the United Methodist Children's Home, 500 S.

Columbia Dr., Decatur, GA 30030.
